

Matt Madore

Senior Manager Technical Support

BIO

Matt has always been drawn to technical support and helping users in their IT environments. Matt enjoys learning new tips and tricks for smooth application usage. Matt likes to get hands-on when troubleshooting and problem solving.

GOALS

- Assist customers in meeting their simulation needs
- Supporting Ansys users

Ansys EXPERIENCE

Matt started his journey at Fluent Inc as a shipping clerk before the Ansys acquisition. Later, he transitioned to the position of administrator for the Academic and Partner programs. In 2007, Matt embarked on a new path in Ansys, taking on a Technical Support role. With dedication and continuous skill development, he eventually became the Team Lead for the North America Installation team. Currently, Matt has achieved further growth and now oversees the global Installation Support team.
