BIO

During his education, Markus found interest in the early product development process and now in helping engineers to solve complex engineering challenges with parametric optimization.

GOALS

- Explain complicated things in a simple way
- Empower Ansys users with skills and knowledge
- Continuous learning and excellence

Ansys EXPERIENCE

Markus first started using Ansys and optiSLang already during Education. He has focused his career on helping engineers and students develop their skills while applying different methods for teaching – on-site, virtual, and on-demand.

SPECIALTIES

- Parametric Optimization
- Process Integration and Design Optimization
- Kanban Practitioner
